

Philippine Travel Made Easy, as tripmoba.com Launches as First Filipino Online Travel Site

BONIFACIO GLOBAL CITY, PHILIPPINES – Some of the country’s top editors and representatives of the local travel community were all abuzz at the recent press launch of tripmoba.com – the first Philippine-focused travel engine of its kind and a revolutionary portal that was developed by Philippine-based e-Commerce company, Transnational eGlobal, Inc. (TeGI), a member of the Transnational Diversified Group (TDG).

Set at the heart of Bonifacio Global City last 10 September, the Aracama restaurant was reinvented as a tropical destination for the night, as journalists, writers and editors braved the rains and traffic jams across the metro to witness the launch of the new travel website. Guests were treated to personalized cocktails by Don Papa Rum and sumptuous culinary fare by Chef Fernando Aracama himself, which included crispy bagnet wraps, bangus and mushroom lumpia rolls, skewered chicken inasal and a lambanog-infused sago’tgulaman.

Lucky attendees won exciting raffle prizes, including a 3D/2N stay at The Bellevue Resort in Bohol, which was won by Charmagne Laconico of Metro and a 3D/2N stay at Costa Pacifica Raintree in Baler, which was won by PhilStarSupreme’s David Milan. The Grand Prize, an all-expense trip to Club Paradise in Coron, was won by Liza Ilarde of Manila Bulletin. tripmoba.com President Zaki Delgado was also present at the event, and took the stage to formally introduce tripmoba.com and welcome all of the guests to the event.

(L-R) Raintree Hospitality Group Marketing Manager Carmela T. Sison, PhilStarSupreme’s David Milan and tripmoba.com’s Lara Santos

(L-R) Lara Santos, Tim Yap, Metro's Michealle Torres and tripmoba.com President Zaki Delgado

(L-R) Patron Publishing's Paolo Lorenzana, Metro's Michealle Torres, tripmoba.com's Third Umali and Zaki Delgado, Status Magazine's Rosario Herrera and Golden ABC Brand Director Jeff Bascon

(L-R) Metro's Michealle Torres and CharmagneLaconico, Manila Bulletin's Liza Ilarde, Circuit's JR Isaac, Metro's Patrick Ty and Patron Publishing's Paolo Lorenzana

“We are a team of creative, passionate individuals who share a love for travel,” Mr. Delgado says, as he acknowledges the tripmoba.com team and their collective dedication in providing Filipinos with a convenient one-stop website for travelers to plan an entire trip from beginning to end. Users can search for the price and availability of airfare and accommodations, and pay instantly online. The website also carries experience packages for added adventure and excitement while travelling, and users are given the opportunity to have constant access of their itinerary, provide reviews and recommendations, and share their personal travel experiences with fellow travelers.

At the end of the event, guests were given tote bags containing tripmoba.com shirts and vanity kits, as well as items by Belo Sun and FLY Shades.

So, #anongtripmo? Register at tripmoba.com and together, let's make great travel stories!